

Mia has over 30 years' experience in large global investment advisory firms supervising compliance, operations, global trading, derivatives and foreign exchange. She has served on bank advisory and securities industry boards, providing oversight on operations, compliance and enterprise risk. With in-depth experience on the operations, administration and management of financial services companies, she has applied strong project management, innovation and implementation of initiatives to drive business growth and simplification of processes. She is excited to be working on this project and brings all these strengths to the Community Center Board.

Mia has a Masters' degree from Cornell University, has a house with her husband in White Sulphur Springs. She has one son, two grandchildren and a border terrier.